

Elementary Secondary Education Act

Know the Law!

Know the History

The Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA) was signed into law in 1965 by President Lyndon Baines Johnson, who believed that "full educational opportunity" should be "our first national goal."

Know the History

ESEA offered new grants to districts serving low-income students, federal grants for text and library books, it created special education centers, and created scholarships for low-income college students.

Additionally, the law provided federal grants to state educational agencies to improve the quality of elementary and secondary education.
